

SUSAN STREET FINE ART GALLERY presents: BLACK WHITE

December 3rd – January 31st, 2010

SUSAN STREET FINE ART GALLERY is pleased to announce, BLACK WHITE, an exhibition of mixed media works rendered in the pure palette of black and white. Deceptively simple and direct, the elegantly powerful compositions of Alfred Harris, Jerry Iverson, Greg Murr, Joshua Jensen-Nagle and Jane Woolverton invite the viewer to engage in the diverse role of texture and depth and the appreciation of process and material.

Undisturbed by color, the affinities in texture and the play of positive and negative space brings tension and balance into the works of each artist. The sequencing of simple elements of shape, line and form in the paintings of Alfred Harris and Greg Murr provides a spatial poetry with an emphasis on surface detail. The rich textures and striking depth in the works of Jerry Iverson are achieved with a spontaneous recklessness using countless layers of paper and sumi inks. Artists, Joshua Jensen-Nagle and Jane Woolverton bring an element of surprise in the elegance of their work using alternative and recycled materials. An exhibition devoted to process and material, BLACK WHITE is not a world without color, the opposing hues will transfix the viewer with its dynamism and leave a lasting impression.

BLACK WHITE runs December 3rd – January 31st, 2010. Our Back Gallery will be featuring paintings and original works on paper by Stephen Pentak and Bob Nugent.
